

The Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Research Center
(IDDRC) at CHOP/Penn

2016-2017 Seminar Series

UPDATED SEPTEMBER 27, 2016

- | | |
|---------------------------|--|
| September 13, 2016 | Craig Powell, MD, PhD, Associate Professor of Neurology & Neurotherapeutics
UT Southwestern Medical Center
"Genetic Models of Autism: Molecules to Potential Therapeutics" |
| October 11, 2016 | Randy Blakely, PhD, Professor of Biomedical Sciences
Florida Atlantic University
"In Vivo Modeling of Dopamine Transporter Leak Syndrome—A Search for Deeper Insights into the Mechanisms Underlying ADHD" |
| November 8, 2016 | Nicole Calakos, MD, PhD, Associate Professor of Neurology & Neurobiology
Duke University Medical Center
"From Healthy Habits to Pathological Compulsions: New Views on Circuit Mechanisms" |
| December 13, 2016 | Jennifer Darnell, PhD, Research Associate Professor
The Rockefeller University
"Translational Control by the Fragile X Mental Retardation Protein, FMRP: Targets and Mechanism" |
| January 10, 2017 | Helen Tager-Flusberg, PhD, Professor of Psycho. & Brain Sciences
Boston University
"Early Markers for Language Impairment in Autism" |
| February 14, 2017 | TBA |
| March 14, 2017 | Elliott Sherr, MD, PhD, Professor of Neurology
University of California San Francisco
TBA |
| April 11, 2017 | Michela Fagiolini, PhD, Assistant Professor of Neurology
Harvard University
"Circuits Dissection and New Therapies in Rett Syndrome" |
| May 9, 2017 | TBA |

Seminars are held at Abramson Research Center/CHOP, Conference Room 123-ABC from Noon - 1 pm.
Lunch will be provided.*

Contact Kristen Pidgeon at pidgeonk@email.chop.edu or 215-590-3728 with questions.